We Are a Network of Transitional Support.

The Stonerise Network is made up of 3,000+ team members. We provide an essential and broad range of care services to 2,000+ patients in West Virginia and southeast Ohio including transitional and skilled nursing care, therapy services, home health and hospice care. Stonerise clinicians meet our patients and their loved ones wherever they may be on their care journey and assist them in getting back to health and back to life.

Transitional & Skilled Nursing Centers: Our network includes 17 transitional care and skilled nursing centers across the state of West Virginia that offer short- and long-term options for patients to receive safe, personalized and clinician-led care. Patients are with us for short- and long-term stays with an increasing number of our in-center patients returning home within a few weeks.

Therapy: We provide skilled physical, speech and occupational therapies throughout our network. Our therapy services start with standardized testing allowing for objective goal setting. Individualized therapy plans are outcomes driven with a goal of restoring our patients to the highest level.

Home Health: The Stonerise Home Health teams engage and empower patients toward independence through highly-skilled assessments and patient education, in addition to technical services such as, wound care, injections, infusion therapy, and much more. We provide these services throughout West Virginia and southeast Ohio in the most comfortable of settings – the patient’s own home.

Hospice: End-of-life care is difficult. We give our patients and their loved ones the respect, dignity and comfort they need during these delicate times. The Stonerise team supports our patients and their families with intentional, high-quality hospice care throughout southeast Ohio.

We Serve Patients Who Need Us.

Stonerise started with the intention to create a better way of caring for our loved ones and their legacies. As we became more familiar with the needs of our patients and their loved ones, we have expanded our services to address our patients' needs at every step of their health journey.

We serve patients of different ages.

Our services have diversified along with the ages of our patients. We continue to see younger populations of patients in need of the Stonerise Network's high-quality transitional care, and we are proud to support them.

We serve patients throughout their healthcare journey.

The Stonerise Network moves patients safely along their journey, wherever it may begin and end. Many of our patients are navigating life outside of a recent hospital stay in which they need a step between a hospital setting and home - or extra support once they get home. We are here to meet those needs.

We provide patients with short-term services.

The Stonerise Network is meeting the increased demand for short-term transitional care and rehabilitation therapy services. Average length of patient stay continues to decrease, and we remain committed to getting our patients home as quickly - and as safely - as possible.

We Believe in Love and Service.

Love: We start each day and make each decision from a place of love, the highest form of human connection. We humbly treat others as we would want ourselves and our loved ones to be treated. This allows us to leave a positive impact on every life we touch.

Compassion: We strive to understand where others are coming from - meet them where they are and not judge - so that we can be a bright spot that will linger throughout their journey.

Patience: We give grace to ourselves and to others so that we can better overcome all sufferings and challenges. In moments big and small, we choose tolerance and forgiveness over anger and frustration. We revel in the positive impact this has across every aspect of our lives.

Courage: We choose bravery every day, in every tough decision. We behave in ways that build a courageous, creative culture. Amidst struggles big and small, we innovate, buck the status quo, try new things, and find smarter, more impactful ways to care for those we serve.

Determination: Fueled by unwavering faith and trust in one another, we are resolute as we carry out our collective purpose. We are determined to serve our faith, our families, our teammates, and our customers through love - because the rewards are always great.
